Helping the Helpless

Clearly, those in crisis need your aid. Please give generously. Filling starving stomachs will fill your heart.

This year, our goal is to attack abject poverty head on by giving back every basic need this scourge has robbed from these famished children. Our programs address the need for food, safe drinking water, health care, shelter, and education. Please be an active part of this life-saving work. We cannot do this without you. You are crucial to saving these precious lives.

God Bless You,

Pat & Sue Bradley

Abject Poverty

THE MOST HOPELESS LEVEL OF POVERTY

For those of you who have never experienced abject poverty, spend a moment thinking about those who have starved since birth. There is no emptiness that comes close. Every organ in the body suffers, craving sustenance. Sustenance starving children and their families cannot afford. It's because of this grim reality that our mission of helping the helpless is paramount. And it's impossible without your help.
